Our Company

We have several PC-MSO (a/k/a “Friendly PC” formation) relationships that have been approved to provide At-Home Detox, Intensive Telehealth counseling, and Telemedicine services for patients suffering from Substance Use Disorder (SUD) in Tennessee, Georgia, and North Carolina. Since our decision to move away from the private pay model and go In-Network with commercial insurance companies, we have won 7 commercial insurance contracts in TN over the past several months. As of 03/25/2024, our second PC-MSO entity was approved to operate in both Georgia and Tennessee. We are currently filing multiple insurance applications in both states.

AWRS removes the institutionalization feel of a traditional treatment facility and offers a full-service At-Home approach to SUD/Co-Occurring conditions, from Medically Supervised Detox to Intensive Telehealth Counseling to Telemedicine to Smart Electronic Monitoring (our proprietary CHARLIE App) over a 52 week period. Combined, our medical and clinical professionals have over 100 years of experience treating the Disease of Addiction. By treating patients within their home, we can keep patients in a real world setting and “hold their hands” as they encounter relapse triggers that will invariably occur. In doing so, we have witnessed a dramatic increase in self-confidence and internal strength to remain relapse-free over multiple months. This compares to the typical 70%+ relapse rates we have witnessed for patients 180 days post-discharge from traditional treatment facilities. Nearly 100% of our medical and clinical and administrative professionals have worked for many years in the traditional treatment facility industry

Why Our Model Works, While Traditional Care Fails

The Habit Loop

Trigger → Routine → Reward

The Habit Loop of Addiction

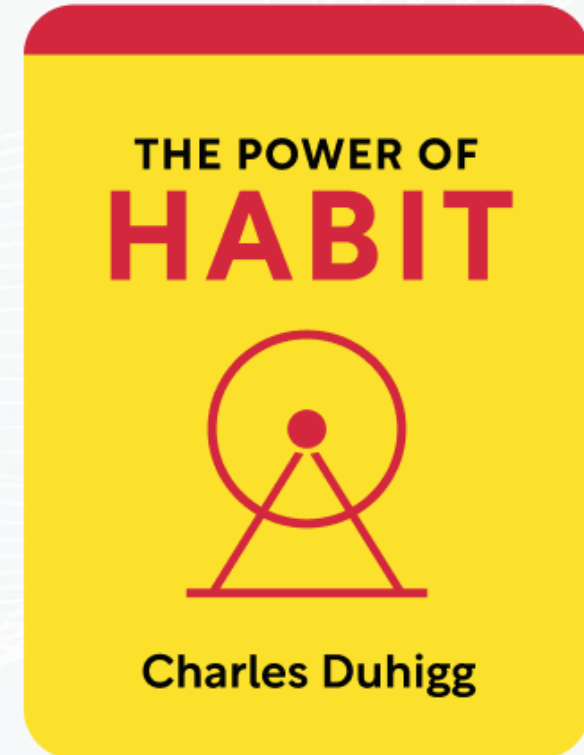

- Patients are often triggered to drink by environmental stimuli and some underlying problem or trauma.

Breaking Loops Means Breaking Routines

- Identifying the correct triggers and providing alternate routines necessitates being in the patients' homes.

Habits of the Home

- By keeping patients in the real-world setting, we assist them in breaking the day-to-day loops that lead to their drinking so they can replace them with positive habits.
